INTRO

C     F     C     F

VERSE 1

C

Your smile is just like a caution sign

F

Roadkill crow's feet around your eyes

C

Blue veins of roads just keep rolling on

F

Maps to the heart that we dwell upon

Dm

F

And when I'm uncertain I pull back the curtains to see

Dm

F

That when I feel worthless, it's cause I've accepted defeat

VERSE 2

C

Sunset stains like a nectarine

F

Stop by a belligerent cash machine

C

Gold lines, structured and comforting

F

You ask why I am suffering

Dm

F

All that I wanted was something to cradle my faith

Dm

F

Sometimes I will lose all I have just to see what remains, sometimes it's like life is a

CHORUS 1

C     F

Car crash, hot flash

Am

F

It takes someone bleeding to get you believing

C

F

A record spinning

Am

F

Obsessed with the end when it's just the beginning

C

F

Don't ask me to hurry

Am F
Impatience is simply the least of my worries
C F
A soft expression
Am F Am Dm
Is just enough answer to keep all the questions at bay
Dm F (stop)
We all risk the chance of mistakes, cause we all need a little pain

VERSE 3

C
You kept your heart on a glass display
F
But truth is a ridiculous waiting game
C
Sad tales without a conclusion
F
Are part of depression's illusion
Am F
In crossing the nation we gain confirmation of fact
Am F (stop)
When it's never enough, it's because there is nothing attached

Sometimes it's like life is a
